

Hello from SiliconDust

We want to thank our loyal customers as we confirm the updated delivery schedule of pre-orders and announce general availability dates for our HDHomeRun® PRIME™ products.

6-Tuner pre-orders are nearing completion, with all remaining pre-orders to ship in the coming week. We appreciate the reviews and feedback on units already in use in customer homes. General stock of our 6-Tuner HDHomeRun® PRIME™ will be ready before Labor Day weekend on www.HDHomeRun.com and select online retailers.

We are happy to confirm that deliveries of pre-orders of our highly anticipated HDHomeRun® PRIME™ 3-Tuner CableCARD™ support device will begin shipping from NewEgg warehouses around the country on August 22, 2011, and will continue to fill through the end of the month.

NewEgg will be opening up additional sales on inventory beyond that along with new sales channel retailers for the product opening up during the Labor Day weekend. You will also be able to purchase direct from our HDHomeRun.com Buy Now page.

Keep watching for more exciting news with regard to the HDHomeRun® PRIME™ for both our 3-Tuner and 6-Tuner devices in the coming weeks.

Sincerely,
Theodore Head
